Aflac Offers Insurance Discounts for KCA Members

Aflac, a leading supplemental insurance company, is now offering KCA members the opportunity to receive discounts on a variety of insurance programs that they offer. Programs include long term health care, accidental, life insurance, hospital protection, cancer protections and many others.

"This is another service that KCA wants to provide to its members. After visiting with Dale Staab, Aflac Representative in the Scott City area, we got a better understanding of what Aflac can offer and felt that if our members chose to use Aflac for their supplemental insurance needs, KCA members could benefit even more from discounts," remarked Executive Director Brandy Carter.

"I am looking forward to the partnership with KCA and to providing much needed benefits to the membership, stated Aflac Independent Agent Dale Staab.

Aflac will be on hand at the Cattlemen's Summer Conference in Dodge City on August 6th to answer any questions and discuss the products and explain the program.
