The United States Senate Urged USDA to Postpone Letting In Canada Cattle

The US Senate voted Thursday November 6, 2003 to urge the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture to stop its efforts to open the U.S. border to Canadian live cattle for at least four years. The KCA is very pleased with this effort and applauds the Senate for taking leading measures to keep the United States cattle industry free from any disease and reducing the dumping of Canadian cattle into our market at a time when U.S. producers are receiving record prices for cattle.
